Dear Mr. Kingsley:

I want to thank you again for meeting with me yesterday. Your recollections have added an important dimension to our study and--we hope--will enable us to portray the events of the past with greater accuracy and sensitivity than otherwise we would be able to do. Your long and rich experience has given you unique insights into many of the events about which we are writing, and I feel fortunate indeed to have been able to tap you as a resource.

In a more personal vein, it was good fun to meet someone whose reports and memos have occupied my time in recent weeks.

So thank you for your hospitality. And please know of our keen appreciation for your cooperation and assistance.

Sincerely,

Staff Historian
